Latest news received by the government is described as confirming the determination that Germany is deliberately attempting to bring about a revolution in Russia and the controlling position of the British in the Baltic. The government contemplates the occupation of Posen. There are more than 100,000 German soldiers with headquarters at Danzig. The Baltic states with the exception of Finland, appear to have surrendered upon the terms of the armistice with the Bolsheviks, and the government is planning an offensive but declining peace terms on the grounds that the Soviet government is unstable to arrange a permanent

Arthur Perry, alias Fred Miller, was sentenced to an intermediate term in the penitentiary today by Judge T. E. Fulton, for forging the name of Charles Wilson on a $45 check on the Jackson County Bank and Trust company, made payable to Clay Justus, and which Perry attempted to pass on the Edman grocery in Wilson street a number of months ago. A plea was made for the prisoner by his counsel, attorney Edward Kibler, but his past record was against him.

Latest news received by the government is described as confirming the view that Germany is deliberately scheming to secure a controlling position in Russia and that she probably contemplates the occupation of Petrograd. CONGRESSIONAL INACTION.

When the Republicans elected their congress last fall, great things were going to be done. The errors of the wicked Democrats were to be exposed. There was to be a clean-up of abuses and a new regime of efficiency was to be created.

Congress has now been in session over four months, and nothing has been done. A few desultory investigations have been started, but nothing of any significance has been uncovered. The senate is all tangled up in a political right over the League of Nations, and the world has been left in turmoil while these politicians have quibbled over their splitting definitions.

The house has had plenty of time to lay out measures of constructive policy. The Republicans lack leadership. They were queered at the start by the row between the Gillett and Mann factions. This did not represent any clear cut difference of principle. It was characteristically settled by giving the speakership to Mr. Gillett, who is called slightly more progressive than Mr. Mann, and then organizing the committee so that the stand-pat element had control. Nobody in the majority party has any program for social improvement, for reconstruction, or for harmonizing of the difficulties between capital and labor. No one seems to realize that the country is suffering from great industrial evils that must be remedied.

This lack of policy is in striking contrast with President Wilson's leadership. His active mind has never been satisfied to see great evils continue year after year without serious attempt at remedy. He attacks such evils courageously, and makes a definite attempt to overcome them. The people are watching the dawdling and squabbling at Washington with growing anger, and will soon demand that congress do something.

There are people in Newark who won't clear up their places, because spring cleaning time will soon come, but it will be found in most cases that they didn't do any cleaning last spring.

With prosecutions for murder hanging over them, some of those Omaha lynchings not feeling they made a mistake in not going to prayer meeting that night.

Millions of people who are denouncing the profiteers, are helping the profiteers make money by cutting down their production and creating scarcities.

If the dinners and cigars are all right at the labor conference, it may not make so much difference who makes the speeches.

The motorists who have these dazzling headlights, are guilty of glaring violations of the law.

SPIRIT OF FAIRNESS.

To hear the croakers talk, you would think that most people are selfish and grasping. One ancient pessimist was driving along the road with an old horse and buggy, when a motor car came along and compelled him to go far out into the ditch. "It's always that way," he said. "The poor man has no rights while these hogs take up the whole road."

The man with whom he was driving didn't say much, but thought he would make some observations. They drove along a few miles and met five automobiles. Every one of them turned well out. He called the attention of his croaking comrade to the fact that all but one had been very decent about it.

That is about a fair proportion in all the relations of daily life. There always will be a minority who were built with a belligerent and arrogant nature, and who will take all they can get and strike for more on top of that. But the majority of people do want to be fair.

The majority of motorists brought before the courts care little for fines. But if the judge will take time to give a personal talk to every batch of offenders, and point out how overbearing their conduct is, how it will alienate the friendship and respect of the community, he will make an impression.

And so it is in that greatest problem of all, the reconciling of Capital and Labor. Most persons who are pursuing an unfair course can be shown that if everyone pursues that course, the community will be brought to disaster, and that the community can't escape that disaster unless all co-operate to be fair. The power of a fair minded argument is still tremendous. It is infinitely more effective than denunciation.

REPRESSING THE MOB.

The increasing manifestations of mob rule in this country, as manifested particularly in recent riots at Omaha and Boston, are a matter of the deepest concern, even in quiet places where no hint of mob outbreak has occurred. If this spirit spreads, gangs of roughs will be making trouble everywhere.

In centers of population, and in a good many small cities as well, there are gangs of toughs who lack only leadership to break loose any time. A strike, a race quarrel, or a hundred other occurrences may fan this smoldering mass into flame. The secret of keeping it down, is first to have a strong authority ready to repress it at all times, and second to visit severe punishment on offenders, as a lesson to others.

When such trouble breaks loose, the ordinary police force may not be able to cope with it. Every community should have its special police and constables or home guards, who can be called out on very short notice.

State militias and national guards were pretty well disrupted by the war in most of the states. They should be reorganized promptly. This service should be made attractive, so that young men will be glad to join for the good training and out of patriotic spirit. Plans should be made so that such forces should be very promptly rallied and shipped to any city needing help. And local officials should not be afraid to call for assistance when it is needed. Every unchecked riot starts a lot of crime spirit.

LOST BASEBALLS.

A court decision of historic importance to the kid world was made by Judge Hagerty at Attleboro, Mass., when he decreed a few days ago that property owners have a right to seize and hold baseballs batted on their land. This decision will create great unrest among the kid element, which has always regarded it an inalienable right to enter any one's garden after a lost baseball. If thereby it happened that the potatoes were trampled down, it was purely immaterial. A runner was already half way down to second, and if they did not find the ball at once, he would make a home run.

It has sometimes seemed as if the kid element took unnecessary satisfaction in recovering a ball out of a well planted garden. In fact securing a baseball before the neighbor housewife could plant her skirts over it, was one of the most ecstatic joys of boy life. But all those days of romance seem to be over, according to the stern decrees of the judiciary.

THE REPUBLICAN PRESS.

One of the reasons why the anti-treaty Republican senators are worried about the outcome of their endeavors is that the Republican press is not backing them up. It makes no difference which state you pick out, you find a defection from the strictest sect of Johnsonism among leading Republican newspapers.

It may possibly annoy Senator Johnson to find Republican journals from Oakland to Fresno opposing him, even if he disregards such papers as the Los Angeles Times. It may not annoy Senator Borah to find the Norwich Bulletin and the Waterbury Republican taking a different stand from his, but it must trouble Senator Borah a little to find the Boise Statesman supporting the league. We all know enough about Boise to appreciate what that means.

As for Iowa, where Senator Cummins' speech evoked a column and a half protest from the Des Moines Register, the whole Republican press, with very few exceptions, seems to be for the treaty.

and the covenant. Senator Capper's Topeka Capital leads the list in Kansas. In Maine it is only necessary to mention the names of the Augusta Journal and the Lewiston Journal to show that the senators from that state have greatly mistaken their aim. The Baltimore American is one paper in Maryland out of several that might give Senator France pause, and as for Massachusetts, where Senator Lodge theoretically runs everything, there is a long list of Republican newspapers from Amesbury to Waltham that take a different view.

It is needless to go through the list of states. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat is against Senator Spencer; the Jersey City Journal confutes Senator Frelinghuysen; the Toledo Blade represents public sentiment in Ohio better than Congressman Fess. The Portland Oregonian heads the list of Oregon Republican newspapers that are telling Republican representatives that the state wants the Jenningsville. Despite Senator Knox, has many Republican journals that are for the treaty. Lenroot is backed up in Milwaukee by the Sentinel and from Baraboo to Oshkosh by other perfectly straight Republican organs.

The only question is whether the people in Washington have heard from the people at home. One thing is sure: Either the Republican senators are right or the Republican newspapers are, and it used to be an axiom that the newspapers knew more about what the people were thinking than the senators did.

There are more than 150 notably Republican newspapers in the country which are earnestly supporting the treaty and the league. It is well to disregard them?—N. Y. Times.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)
Let the world today look at Ohio, and be respectful, for Ohio is champion of the world. Weiridly enough it is not Ohio's metropolis that has won this honor, but a smaller and less impressive city in the southern part of the state. In days gone by there was rivalry between Cleveland and Cincinnati. Now Cleveland looks only with kindly interest on Cincinnati. Especially when Cincinnati wins a baseball championship, and thus brings to Ohio a brand new glory.

Surely there is enough glory for Cleveland and the rest of Ohio to have a share of it. Cleveland wanted Cincinnati to win, "rooted" for Cincinnati to win, and this despite the fact that Cleveland is an American league city and Cincinnati's triumph would mean the humiliation of the American league. Cleveland wanted Cincinnati to win because Cincinnati is in Ohio, and also because Cincinnati was rated as the under dog by the professional and unprofessional wise ones. Of course Cleveland today is not as elated as Cincinnati, but Cleveland is well content.

For a long time many people of the United States are going to be saying pleasant things about Manager Moran and about his "misfits." The "cast-off" manager and the "cast-off" team are going to become very proud of this appellation, like the British "contemptibles" who were scorned by a Kaiser. It would be a good name to stick, but, unfortunately, you cannot fix a derogatory nickname on a team of world's champions. The Cincinnati team will have to be called the "ex-misfits," which will be a unique honor. There have been many "ex-champions," but champions who are "ex-misfits" are contrary to tradition.

QUAKER QUIPS.

(Philadelphia Record)
One-half of the world doesn't even know how the other can afford to live. In looking for trouble the people who are near-sighted are apt to find it at home.

Everyone has a past, even though it may merely consist of dreaming of the future.

Any dyspeptic will tell you that lives of great men depend largely upon the liver.

It takes more than a sense of humor for a man to make light of his wife's heavy biscuits.

"I gotcha!" exclaimed the slangy girl when the amorous swain offered himself at her shrine.

It may be more blessed to give than to receive, but it's all one where women and secrets are concerned.

"It's never too late to mend," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes," agreed the Simple Mug, "when it comes to mending our ways we are apt to put it off till the last minute."

"Buggins—With the high cost of living all business seems to run to extremes." Buggins—"Yes, even the middle man may complain that he can't make both ends meet."

Did You Know?
That a remarkable relic of antiquity is Offa's Dyke in England? It is an intrenchment extending along the whole border of England and Wales, from the north coast of Pembrokeshire, on the mouth of the Dee, southward to the estuary of the Wye. It is generally supposed to have been used as a line of demarkation. Nearly parallel with it on the east side and at a distance varying a few hundred yards to three miles, is Watt's Dyke, a similar relic, but almost obliterated in places. It is thought that the space between was once neutral ground where the Anglo-Saxons and Welsh met for trading purposes.

Times Not Propitious.
Do you intend to resume your visits to Europe next summer?

Invest Your Money In Newark Industries

SEVERAL YEARS AGO THE NEWARK STAMPING AND FOUNDRY CO. was organized by local men with local capital. These men believed they could operate a successful business in Newark and obtain sufficient capital here as well as in any other town. Their experience has proven the correctness of their judgment. In a few years the number of employees of this company has grown from five to eighty; the weekly pay roll has grown from $50 to $2,000. The invested capital has grown from $10,000 to $125,000. The output has grown from $1,000 per month to $30,000 per month. Does this not show substantial growth?

The rapid growth of this company makes expansion necessary. For this purpose the company has purchased additional land and is now having plans drawn for a new building. This necessitates additional capital and it is the purpose of this advertisement to bring this proposition to the attention of the people of Newark and Licking County. This company will need $50,000 additional capital in the next ninety days. Does the record shown above merit the confidence of the investors of this community? We believe it does and we take pleasure in calling this industry to the attention of the people of this community.

At the present time the company has orders for over $50,000 worth of furnaces. Within the past week a telegram was received from one of the largest mail order houses in America requesting information as to the price and the time of delivery of 200 furnaces. Lack of facilities preclude the possibility of closing a contract with this firm before January 1st.

A leading business man of this city who is not connected with the company told one of the officials of a conversation he had with a Furnace dealer in another city. This dealer told the Newark Business Man that he had been selling May-Feibeger furnaces for twenty years, and never yet had a complaint from a customer. His only complaint was that he could not secure enough furnaces for his trade. He also remarked "The City of Newark has a gold mine in this furnace and doesn't know it."

In order to provide for this marked increase in business, additional capital and working facilities are necessary. It is for this purpose that a $50,000 issue of 7% cumulative preferred stock is now being offered to the public. This stock is tax free, preferred as to both assets and dividends and nets the investor 7% per annum. Price $100 per share. This stock may be purchased on partial payment plan. We recommend it as a safe and conservative investment to the investors of Newark and Licking Co.

Chicago Grain Review.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Fresh declines in the price of corn took place today, chiefly as a result of favorable weather for conditioning the new crop. Operating prices, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to 3-4c lower, with December 11.22 3-8 to 11.22 5-8 and May 11.21 to 11.21 3-8, were followed by a moderate setback all around, and then something of a rally.

Oats sagged with corn. After opening 1-8c higher, including December at 70 1-2c, the market underwent a general decline.

Provisions were dull and weak.

Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 11.—Specialties, particularly motors and their subsidiaries, dominated today's brief but very lively stock market to a greater extent than at any time in their history. Many new high records were made by shares of those descriptions. Buoyant features included Chandler, Studebaker, Pierce

Arrow, White and General Motors at gains of 5 to 32 points. Stromberg, Duesel magneto and rubber tire issues scored less extensive gains. Associated Oil and Mexican Petroleum were substantially higher and shippings, tobaccos, leathers and textiles contributed to the sweeping advance. Rails, steels, and equipment were hesitant though ending mostly at gains. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

Today's short session of the stock market opened with a resumption of bullish operations in motors and oils, also shippings, steels, equipments, tobaccos and miscellaneous specialties. Gains of 1 to 3 points attended the early dealings in Pierce Arrow, Stromberg, Carburetor, Kelly-Springfield Tire, Mexican Petroleum, Atlantic Gulf, American International, Bethlehem Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Sumatra Tobacco, Retail Stores and Famous Players. Metals also improved, but rails were irregular. Southern Pacific forfeiting part of yesterday's substantial rise.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO. CLASSIFICATION OF PROPERTY FOR PURPOSES OF TAXATION.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein:

That there shall be submitted to the electors of the state for their approval or rejection, at the regular election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1919, a proposal to amend Article XIII, Section 2, of the constitution of the State of Ohio, to read as follows:

Section 2. All property shall be taxed by such rules and methods and in such classes as may be provided by law. The rules and methods shall be uniform within the classes so established. But all bonds outstanding on the first day of January, 1913, of the state of Ohio or of any city, village, county, or township of this state, which have been issued in behalf of the public schools in Ohio and the means of instruction in connection therewith shall be exempt from taxation; and burying grounds, public school houses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions used exclusively for charitable purposes, public property used exclusively for any public purpose, and personal property, to an amount not exceeding in value five hundred dollars, for each individual, may, by general laws, be exempted from taxation; and laws may be passed to provide against the double taxation that results from the taxing of both the real estate and the mortgage or the debt secured thereby, or other lien upon it; but all such laws shall be subject to alteration or repeal, and the value of all property so exempted shall, from time to time, be ascertained and published as may be directed by law.

Be it further resolved, That the required publication of the said proposed amendment shall be made and the form of the ballots to be used at said election for the submission thereof shall be prepared by the secretary of state. Returns of the votes cast at said election shall be made by the proper election officials to the secretary of state, who, with the governor and the attorney general, shall open and canvass the same. If a majority of the electors voting on the said amendment shall be ascertained to have voted in favor thereof, the governor shall make proclamation thereof without delay.

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, or sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed fermenting food in the bowels.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep.—Adv.

SUES COSHOCTON MAN FOR WRECKING HIS CAR

Wallace Davidson has filed a petition in common pleas court against The Coshocton Buick company, A. N. Conroy, proprietor, et al, in which he asks that damages in the sum of $500 be paid him for damages to plaintiff's automobile. The petition recites that on September 28, 1919, he was driving on the National pike near Gratiot when an automobile owned by defendant, and driven by Joseph Gallimore and Arthur Barlick, collided with the machine of the plaintiff, owing to the negligence of defendant, who was operating his car at a dangerous rate of speed on the wrong side of the highway, as a result of which the machines collided greatly damaging the car of plaintiff, causing him to expend $300 for repairs and depriving him of the use of his car and other damage in the sum of $200, a total of $500.

CHESTNUTS PLENTIFUL BUT SELL SLOWLY

Chestnuts were selling at 25 cents per measure on the old market and 15 and 20 cents on the new market this morning, but sold slowly at that price. Several residents from the vicinity of Purity were selling nuts in the downtown district at seven and a half cents per pound and disposed of them in short order. One young man sold a bushel and a half without leaving a barber shop, getting all the customers in the place at the time carrying away a sack of nuts.

DECLARES WIFE TIED UP HIS WAGES TOO OFTEN

In the case of Josephine Goodin against Harlan Goodin an answer and cross petition has been filed by Goodin in common pleas court, in which he admits the marriage on June 30, 1917, but denies all other allegations. In his answer he avers that Mrs. Goodin for more than a year last past has been guilty of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty in that she has constantly cross, quarrelsome and fault finding, and has falsely accused him of intimacy with other women, stating that he used his automobile for that purpose and carried both white and colored women. He also charged that Mrs. Goodin interfered with his work so that he has lost several positions; that she has several times tied up his funds by injunction only to dismiss the same at a great loss and expense to himself, only to bring accusations anew. He also alleges that on September 22, she ordered him from home and threw his clothing out into the yard. Goodin prays the court that her petition be dismissed and that he be granted the divorce together with all other relief to which he may be entitled.
